Agility in Action

The Canadian Association of Allied Health Programs (CAAHP) is an affiliated group of Colleges and Institutions across Canada that represents unique professions in allied health and facilitates meaningful dialogue between programs to propel education forward. CAAHP supports members by providing valuable industry insights, news, learning, networking opportunities, and forums for sharing best practices.

Each year, the Canadian Association of Allied Health Programs hosts the National Education Conference, welcoming allied health professionals and educators across the country.

This annual event serves as a meeting ground for key leaders interested in exchanging perspectives. With a curated lineup of dynamic speakers and engaging sessions, the CAAHP Education Conference provides opportunities for real-time discussions, exploring the most relevant topics for Allied Health innovators & decision makers.

At the June 2024 Conference real-world application and practice will take centre stage as we delve into the intersection of adaptability and innovation. Together, we will spotlight how agility transforms challenges into opportunities, exploring current topics and concerns in allied health programs both for providers as well as decision makers. JOIN US as we welcome you to Ottawa!

The Conference will be hosted in-person on June 6th and 7th, 2024 at Collège La Cité in Ottawa, Ontario in the Amphitheater, Building E. Room E1150.

A block of hotels have been reserved at a discounted rate at the Courtyard by Marriot Ottawa East, 200 Coventry Road Ottawa, Ontario K1K 4S3.

ACPTS*DAY 1 AGENDA (THURSDAY JUNE 6)*Continental Breakfast

9:00am – 9:15am

Welcome

9:15am – 9:30am | Wendy Lawson, President, CAAHP

Opening Address & Theme Setting

9:30am – 10:15am | Wendy Lawson, President, CAAHP

In today's rigorous academic landscape, the convergence of academic performance, social pressures, and the looming uncertainties of the future present a myriad of mental health challenges demanding our attention. This conversation delves into the unique struggles faced by current students and sets the stage for sustainable solutions aimed at cultivating a stronger, more resilient academic community.

Networking Break

10:15am – 10:30am

Session 1: Supporting the International Student Experience

10:30am – 12:15pm | Thea Laidman, Mohawk College

This presentation explores the importance and implementation of cross-institutional supports for international students highlighting key topics such as Understanding the Needs of International Students, Best Practices in Cross-Institutional Support, and Cultivating Inclusive Campus Communities. Participants will gain valuable insights, practical strategies, and actionable recommendations for developing and enhancing cross-institutional supports for international students within their own educational contexts.

Lunch Break

Session 2: Make Mistakes: Creating Personal Tools and Techniques to Triumph

1:30pm – 2:30pm | Myka Taylor, Dawson College

As educators it is our job to provide every student with the necessary resources, tools, guidance to thrive academically, emotionally, and socially. This presentation highlights the speaker's personal educational journey with dyslexia and the support that helped her triumph. Together, let's explore how embracing mistakes, overcoming failures, and celebrating victories all help build resilience, self-advocacy, and growth.

Networking Break

2:30pm - 2:45pm

Session 3: Bridging Two Worlds - Inclusive Design in Clinical Education

2:45pm - 3:45pm | Cathy Roy, Dawson College

In this session we'll explore how clinical placements and internships serve as vital links between education and professional practice, presenting a unique opportunity to advance thinking and practices in both environments. Join us as we spotlight practical toolkits and apply the UDL model in clinical settings to extend the flexible solutions they propose to the diverse range of students and future healthcare professionals in our programs.
